Montgomery, Sept. 30.—Robt. Croskey and Julius Phifer, negroes, who were committed to the circuit court in the preliminary hearing Monday morning on the charges of criminal assault on white women were dragged from an automobile at Hughes' Ferry Monday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock by a masked mob of more than 50 men and literally riddled with bullets. Croskey was left on the ground in a dying condition and lived five hours.

(International News Service)
Montgomery, Sept. 30.—Patrolman J. B. Barbaree was shot to death late Monday night while attempting to quell a disturbance in the negro section. William Temple, a negro charged with the crime and who was seriously wounded by a bullet from the officer's gun, was carried to Hale's infirmary for treatment. The negro was later taken out of the infirmary about 2:30 o'clock this morning by an unknown party of six men and lynched in one of the hospital wards.

(International News Service)
MONTGOMERY, Sept. 30.—One police officer and four negroes dead, one 11 year old white boy missing and supposed to be murdered, and two negro leaders, including the pastor of a large church driven out of the city and warned not to return, is the present record of an outbreak between the races which began with the lynching of two negroes Monday afternoon and which it is feared by authorities will reach a crucial stage some time tonight.

White being conveyed for safe-keeping from the Montgomery jail to the penitentiary at Wetumpka in an automobile, Robt. Croskey and Julius Phifer, arraigned yesterday for a special grand jury for assaults on white women, were taken from three deputy sheriffs and shot to death by 100 or more masked men at Hughes' Ferry, on the Alabama river.

The officers were driven out of the car with shotguns in the hands of the lynchers. One of the deputies, George Tucker, made a plea to the mob to allow the law to take its course. The reply was: "We have no time for arguments, Tucker; we are not going to degrade white women by having them go into court to face these guilty brutes."

The negroes were then pulled from the car, taken some distance into the woods and literally riddled with bullets.

One hundred special deputies guarded the county jail all night against any further attempts at violence, there being no military organization equipped for service. For two weeks the community has been wrought up over a series of outrages against white women by negroes, culminating on Saturday last when Robt. King was rushed to the Mobile county jail for an attempted criminal assault upon a telephone operator returning to her home at 10 o'clock at night. Feeling reached such a height in this case that Gov. Kilby called a supposed leader of a local secret organization into conference with the sheriff of the county and warned him that he would be held personally responsible for any violence that might occur.

A second outburst came at 2:25 this morning when Traffic Officer J. B. Barbee was instantly killed by Will Temple, a negro, when he attempted to stop a fight between Temple and two other negroes. As the officer fell he pulled his pistol and shot Temple in the head. The negro was removed to Hale's hospital and two police officers were sent there to guard him. Fifteen minutes later a body of white men went to the hospital and shot him to death. About 4 o'clock while city and county officers were on edge expecting further trouble a shot was heard near the center of the city and the body of an unidentified negro was found later. RED CROSS ISSUES APPEAL FOR STOVE FOR LOCAL FAMILY

The tinge of fall in the air has brought the first of the season's distress calls to the Red Cross. Mrs. Vera Austell announced today in an appeal to the public for old furniture.

According to the story reported to Red Cross headquarters, some time ago a family moved here but the mother of the several children died, leaving the kiddies in the care of the father and grandmother. Recently the father is said to have deserted them and now the family's scant home furnishings, which had not been paid for, have been taken.

Mrs. Austell asks for a second hand stove and two beds. Anyone wishing to donate them has been requested to call Decatur 24 or 422.

SLASHES THROAT AT UNION STATION

J. M. Palmer, said to live at 1425 Tuscaloosa avenue, West End, Birmingham, and thought to be mentally unbalanced, slashed his throat at the Decatur union station this afternoon and is being held in the care of city authorities.

Palmer arrived here last night with a ticket from St. Louis to Birmingham. He got off the train and went to a Decatur hotel where he started early morning pedestrians by leaning out the window and yelling for the police. At the request of authorities he was given medical attention but it was not thought he was dangerous and he was allowed to resume his journey.

Immediately after Palmer cut his throat today, Mayor Nelson telephoned relatives in the Magic City and Palmer's daughter is expected to arrive tonight. Palmer is not believed to be fatally hurt.

OMAHA, Sept. 30.—Maj. Gen. Leonard Wood, acting under orders from Secretary of War Baker, arrived in Omaha early today and immediately took command of military forces sent here by the government to suppress lawlessness and establish order after the riotous outbreak Sunday night.

Governor McKelvie is in Omaha today to begin an investigation of the riot. No outbreaks of any kind have taken place since Sunday night. The military forces are apparently in complete control of the city, which is being patrolled by troops while machine guns are mounted at advantageous places, and floating above the city are army balloons on the lookout for incendiary fires and other signs of violence.

Searchlights were played over the negro district throughout the night. Mayor E. P. Smith, who came near being lynched by the mob, was confined to the hospital today but is recovering.

TROOPS MAY BE SENT TO WAUKEGAN

The ninth day of the national steel strike showed little change in the situation generally, except for a continuation of gains by the operators in the Pittsburgh and western Pennsylvania district. Conditions there are rapidly approaching normal in the principal plants, with more men returning to work. The confidence of Wall street in the strike's failure was apparent today when crucible steel rose to a new high level and other steel stocks were steady with slight gains. The extension of the strike to the Bethlehem district had little effect.

(International News Service)
PITTSBURG, Sept. 30.—The national steel strike in Pittsburgh and western Pennsylvania, the industrial heart of the country, has reached a stage of stagnation or static-like progress in which neither side can see a quick decision. The crucial days of the strike have passed without making or breaking the strike.

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Sept. 30.—The senate will carry its investigations of the steel strike directly into the troubled district next Friday. Senator Kenyon, chairman of the education and labor committee of the senate, announced today that unless the league of nations situation in the senate interferes, his committee will re-open the investigation Friday in Pittsburg and continue in three days.

UNENVIEABLE LIGHT

It hardly seemed possible that Chicago, with its record for bloody race riots, and Boston, with its wild orgies that followed the policeman's strike, could be robbed of the distinction of being America's most lawless cities. However, they have lost their titles, and must accord the pennant to Omaha, a supposedly quiet and peace-loving Nebraska town that sprung into notoriety overnight. For the first time in history a mob—a wild, seething maddened mob such as the South is famous for—went so far as to forget its ultimate object and prime purpose and attempted to lynch a mayor who was intent upon keeping his oath of office and in protecting a prisoner who was in official custody. Never before was law held in such scant respect by any American city.

Lynching, under any circumstances, is to be deplored. Not that a black man who outrages a white woman does not deserve any fate, however horrible, but because one crime does not justify another; because our respect for constituted authority is lessened by such public exhibitions; because in the mad haste of the moment the innocent are often made to suffer; because nothing is really accomplished. It is extremely doubtful if crimes against women are any less frequent because of mob violence; it is extremely probable that the opposite is the case. Public sentiment is so overwhelming in exacting the death penalty of those who outrage womanhood, that there is no possibility of justice being long delayed. All that the mob does is to stimulate and encourage excesses, to foster blood lust and to strike hard at civilization itself. Mobs are never needed until the courts have failed to do their duty.

It is some consolation to know that the West and the North are far more revengeful, far less restrained in their outbreaks, than is the South, a section that has been maligned continually and persistently. In the South, only the man believed to be guilty is punished. Omaha and Boston and Washington and Chicago do not stop so soon.

A certain newspaper might amend its name to read "Omaha Lynching Bee."

Just because Cincinnati has won its first world's series in fifty years, the general public is pulling for the Reds to cop the world's title. Success succeeds, but failure gets the sympathy.

That anti-strike law passed by the Alabama legislature was not intended as an alibi for certain baseball players.

America will welcome King Albert and Queen Elizabeth of Belgium, regardless of what the mayor of Milwaukee thinks about it.

Why didn't that Nebraska mob get the mayor of Chicago or the mayor of Milwaukee?

STATE PRESSTHE MOBILE DECLARATION
Former Senator James Hamilton Lewis says rightly that President Wilson made his declaration of respect for the rights of all persons long before the war and enunciated the spirit of Article X of the peace covenant in his address delivered in Mobile. The address was delivered October 27, 1913, and not 1915, as was stated in the dispatches of Tuesday, and contained these memorable and, as we see now, prophetic sentences:

"Human rights, national integrity and opportunity as against material interests—that, ladies and gentlemen, is the issue which we have to face. I take occasion to say that the United States will never again seek an additional foot of territory by conquest. She . . . must regard it as one of the duties of friendship to see that from no quarter are material interests made superior to human liberty and national opportunity. . . . It is the relationship of a family of mankind devoted to the development of true constitutional liberty."

One of the duties of friendship, said Mr. Wilson, is to prevent material interests from imposing upon human liberty; the family of mankind must devote itself to upholding constitutional liberty against despotic aggression. Such was what he said in 1913. And in the covenant of nations he wrote in 1919: "The members of the league undertake to respect and preserve as against external aggression the territorial integrity and existing political independence of all the members of the league"—a phrase that is in the very spirit of the declaration made in Mobile six long and eventful years ago.—Mobile Register.

Voice of the PeopleSomerville, Ala., R. 2.
Mr. Editor of Albany-Decatur Daily:

I want to say a few words in answer to Mr. Fred Perkins of Albany and Mr. W. T. Bayne of Moulton. Mr. Bayne does not say whether he is a farmer or what he is. I cannot place him at all. I do not know what to call him only he favors the high cost of living. His piece was like a sounding brass and tinkling symbol, nothing in it, only he wants all he can get for his work and if he is a farmer he is like me he knows it has cost a lot this year to produce cotton and corn and other things.

This year wages have been high on the farm as well as in shops or other places and my friend very well knows that the condition of folks is a long way ahead of what they were 10 years ago. Look at the price of real estate at this day and time, lands where I live could have been bought 25 or 15 years ago at $10 per acre, now it cannot be bought for less than $60 per acre. The most of people are living too high, both women and men. It is high living that is hurting, not the cost so much. How many ladies do you see wearing calico dresses now? none my friend.

Moulton knows these things are facts: The ladies in town or city wears their silks and satins and rides in fine cars. These things will have to be checked, if not if man was getting $25 a day he would holler for more.

Yes my friend I would much rather have 30 cents for cotton and pay $10.00 a pair for shoes than to have cotton at 10 cents and so had you if you are a farmer, but it seems you are firing on me from ambush.

Show your colors bub—if you are a farmer we have a kind feeling for you as well as the day laborer. You very well know that when cotton was down to 8 and 10 cents that there wasn't any money in the common people's pockets. They had no bank accounts, no cars, very few buggies.

Wh. of course you favor the present way of living if you are a man and if you are a mule you don't care, just

MRS. BALLAS ENTERTAINS

It comes from days of agony and shame. This old Tasmanian road. When men the souls of other men might tame With stinging lash and goad.

I see them at their task, those convicts gray;

I hear a clanking chain
That fetters man to man along the way
Of toil and biting pain.

On hills where yellow-lichened she-oaks grow
The road winds up and down.

To cross a stream, whose waters flash and flow
Beside a ruined town.

Gray fences by the roadway fall and rot,

Gates, wind-swing, creak and groan;

By unknown lawns bleak homesteads, long forgot,
Show fronts of crumbling stone.

And in the town are moss-grown tumbling walls.

That lapse round moldered cells, Where, memory-born, a brooding shadow falls,
And of dark horror tells.

But lanes of alien oak and burgeoning elm

With summer's kiss are green; Fair from forsaken gardens flowers overwhelm

The shame that once has been.

And all the town is held by quietness; No more the lash and goad
Drive broken men with aching feet to press

This old Tasmanian road. So time, the craftsman, weaves a mingled tale

Along the chapping years; The old dark ways of shame in beauty fail,

Flowers bloom o'er olden tears. O'Phimerty, in Sydney Bulletin.

RECEPTION ON MONDAY.

A social function of Monday afternoon that was most pleasing to this community, and especially to the Albany school faculty, was the reception given by The Woman's Missionary Society of the Central Methodist church at the residence of Rev. and Mrs. W. P. McGlawn, from 3 to 6 o'clock. Guests were welcomed on the piazza by Mrs. Herman Troup, who wore white messoline and georgette crepe, who directed them to the punch, served by Misses Mary Harvey, Bessie Cobb and Erin Draper.

Within the door of this hospitable home stood Mesdames J. L. Gunter, who introduced arrivals to the receiving line that included the Rev. Dr. and Mrs. W. P. McGlawn, Mrs. J. L. Proctor, president of the organization, R. W. Cowart, superintendent of Albany schools, Mr. Templeton, principal of the High School, Mrs. Kimball Jones, principal of the Gordon School, Miss Sarah Calhoun, principal of the First Ward School, Miss Anna Cliff, principal of the Third Ward School, Miss Lillian Taylor, principal of the Second Ward School, Mesdames W. H. Winton, J. W. Crow, J. W. Cunningham, J. W. Cobby, J. J. Rose, E. M. Odom, W. B. Robertson and J. F. Lovin.

J. L. Draper, A. L. Jolly, J. Durrett,

The dining room was a picture in red and green, these brilliant colors, with the sun-shiny countenances of those presiding, made one feel the happiness of the Christmas season.

The dining table was draped in creamy lace, and centered by a large vase of stately dalias, that reared their crimson heads among feathery ferns, depending from the chandelier in a shower.

Mrs. E. S. Johnson and Mrs. James Foster poured tea, those assisting were: Mesdames A. Z. Bailey, J. D. Bush, C. L. Price, D. C. Almon, Milton Harvey and Alex Humphrey.

From here the guests went into the living room where they paused for a social chat, while listening to Victoria numbers, Mrs. Tom Faust and

Mrs. W. A. Green presiding. This room was quite pretty in its decoration of exquisite fall roses. During the hours of entertaining a continuous stream of guests flowed into the doors of the parsonage.

"A monopoly within the meaning of this act shall be held to mean any person, firm or corporation or a combination of the same who shall undertake to purchase or in any way or manner get possession or control of any article or commodity of food, clothing, fuel or other necessity of life for the purpose of withholding the same from the regular and due course of trade with the intent of affecting the price thereof.

"Section 4.

"That it shall be unlawful for any person, firm or corporation to be or remain a party to any profiteering, trust, combine or monopoly, or to hold in any way or manner any food stuff, or other necessity of life, for the purpose of probably affecting the price of such article in this state; and if it be shown that the purpose

"Section 6.

"That any juror summoned for jury duty for the trial of any suit brought hereunder who is employed by or interested in, or related to, any defendant or to any person, firm or corporation that does any business for or with any defendant, shall be subject to challenge for cause at the instance of the attorney general.

Everybody

Them

Why has this New Store such an advantage--Here is the answer

Last May (practically) every line of merchandise was at its lowest ebb. The wheels of industry were most at a stand-still. Right at that time W. J. Garnett, with the new store foremost on his mind, made frequent trips to the markets and contracted for LARGE QUANTITIES of Clothing, Shoes, Dry Goods, Silks, Ribbons & Dress Goods. In fact, all possible lines that Fall shipments could be obtained on. And now, RIGHT NOW, this merchandise is coming in. The prices today are much higher than what we bought it at. In some cases double.

YOU! YOU! YOU!—OUR CUSTOMERS—are going to reap this benefit. And in addition we give you Valuable Coupons with every purchase. We want you to feel that if you don't trade at Garnett's Department Store, Inc., you are losing something that really belongs to you.

The quality of our merchandise is dependable. We are right here to make good any article that does not come up to what we sell it to you for. This is a correct statement—

Hart Schaffner & Marx fine clothes are $15.00 higher today than we are selling them at. You are getting the benefit, and we are making friends for the days to come. Are you taking advantage of it? Here is something to think about.

You owe it to your family to shop around. Spend your money wisely. Examine our merchandise and prices—

(Editor N. Y. Amer. p.)
The Dear Old Circus! What a flood of reminiscences they bring to the grown-up. What a world of wonderment to the "kid" at his side in the street, as they both gaze at the pictured pageantry of Hippodrome and the Menagerie as pictured on the neighboring barn. And indeed we feel sorry for that grown-up too old or callous or embittered to himself, forgotten when he himself was a child; or if he finds no joy in the fact that the youngsters of his town and country are to know the thrill, the fathomless child wonder that comes to them only on the day when the red wagons arrive; and the big elephants and the funny old clowns, the trumpeting bands and the tooting steam calliopes.

A person's taste may be educated to the point when the most classical music is appreciated in the symphony concert, an eagerly appreciated treat, the Grand Opera a delight. But it is doubtful if any of these really stir the heart to that rapture inspired by the first lusty note as the calliope in the days gone by, when every little urchin vied in being up early on the morning of circus day to carry water for the elephant for admission to fairyland.

Were there ever such wonderful little ponies, such bespangled girls, such bewildering funny clowns? That man is old indeed, whose heart does not wax to the memory of that long-ago boy who is yet like the boy of today, with his mop of unruly hair and his quota of stubbed toes and stony bruises. Circus Day! There is nothing like it under the sun.

Be a boy again and see the Walter L. Main Fashion Plate Shows when it visits Albany-Decatur Wednesday.

"Cincinnati must be baseball crazy," said Ike Kuhn. "Recently I wrote to a friend in Cincinnati asking him to purchase a ticket for a friend here to the world series and offered up to $20. In reply by Redland friend wrote that he had been unable to get but two tickets for himself and wife."

WANTS TO RIDE ALL THE TIME

"I wish I could ride an airplane all the time," said Charles Rountree, who was one of the passengers Sunday afternoon. "It was the greatest sensation I ever experienced. There was not that sense of height you feel when on tall buildings but on the other hand you feel perfectly secure. I wish I could buy a plane for my own use."

Orange Has 2 Mayors, Won't Recognize Each

(International News Service)
ORANGE, N. J., Sept. 30.—This town has two self-designated Mayors, neither of whom recognizes the claim of the other.

William A. Lord, Republican, recently was elected to fill the unexpired term of Mayor Daniel F. Minahan, who resigned to occupy a seat in Congress.

But Frank J. Murray, director of revenue and franchises, insists that he automatically became mayor when Minahan resigned.

POLICE OFFICER UNHESITATINGLY ANSWERS CALL

DUTY. NO DOUBT. PROMPTED BOWLING GREEN MAN'S GLOWING TRIBUTE TO TRUTONA.

BOWLING GREEN, Ky., Sept. 29.—Sam C. Dunnary, 640 Tenth street, Bowling Green, has been a popular and efficient member of the local police force for many years. His devotion to duty together with a pleasant personality has won for him the respect and admiration of hundreds of friends. This genial officer of the peace has but one regret in dwelling reminiscently upon his years of service and that—poor health. How he has finally overcome this difficulty, Mr. Dunnary tells in the following manner:

"It seemed that everything I ate I had to be annoyed by an uneasy, heavy feeling in my stomach, followed by a shortness of breath. I was usually constipated. Supper seemed to hurt me the worst and caused me to experience many a sleepless night."

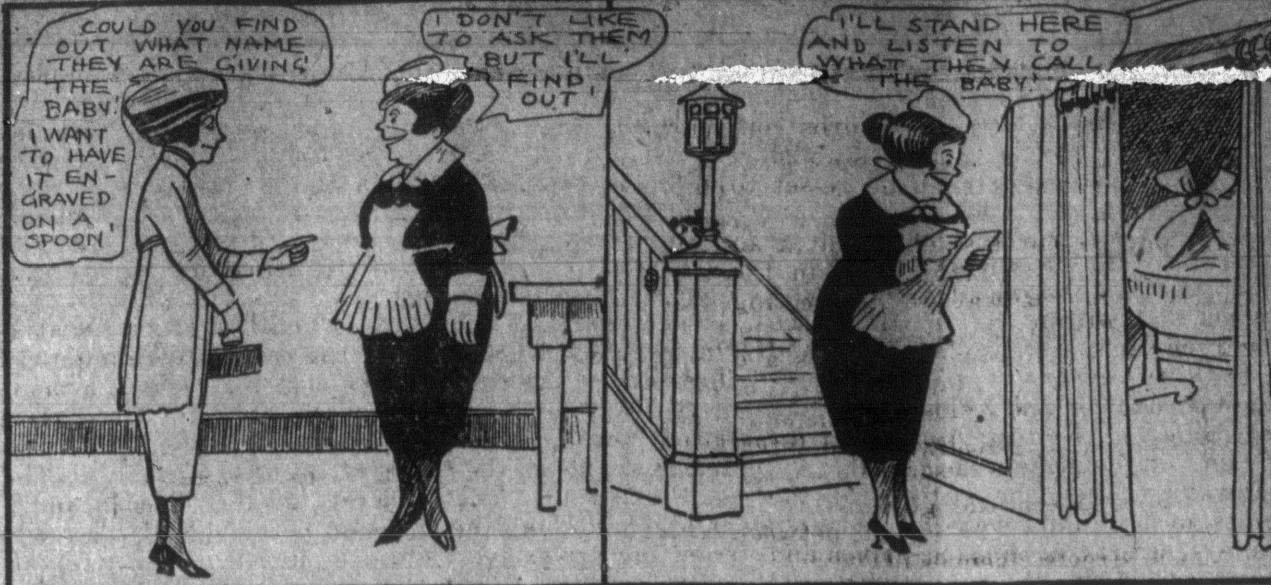

Trutona quickly relieved the heavy feeling in my stomach and shortness of breath that formerly followed my meals. The constipation has also been relieved to a great extent. In fact, I sleep better, eat better—eat anything I want, too—without bad after effects, since taking Trutona. It is a tonic of real merit in rebuilding weakened and run down systems and I'm trying to get everyone, suffering as I was, to take it."

Trutona is now being introduced and explained in Decatur by Decatur Drug Co., and in Albany by Preuit-Dillehay Drug Co.—Advertisement.

Hubby Was Hun War
Barometer, Divorce

(International News Service.) PATERSON, N. J., Sept. 30.—Mrs. Mamie G. Muller is seeking a divorce here today because her husband turned out to be, among other things, an excellent war barometer.

"I could tell by his face just how the war was going," Mrs. Muller told a chancellor appointed to hear her case. "Whenever the Germans were losing, he would come home drunk. If the Huns won a battle he smiled sweetly and petted me."

Bowling and Dancing

(International News Service.) BOSTON, Sept. 30.—Modern churches should be equipped with bowling alleys and provisions for dancing, Baptist ministers here were told by Rev. J. J. Phelan, of Toledo, Ohio. He said:

"Many amusements must be taken out of their present surroundings. Why should pool, billiards or bowling have evil associations when they can be made into wholesome pastime? Dancing can be overdone, but it has true value as physical exercise and in the development of poise."

It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and relieves the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded.

Rainey is Leading
G. O. P. Opponent

GADSDEN, Ala., Sept. 30. (Special) —A large vote is being polled in the Seventh district today in the election to choose a successor to the Congressman John L. Burnett, with L. B. Rainey, Democratic nominee, leading over his Republican opponent, C. B. Kennamer, of Guntersville.

The "bloody Seventh" as the district is known politically, has been the scene of the bitterest fight that has ever been waged in the selection of a Congressman. The Republican campaign has been conducted, it is charged by Congressman Stump of Virginia, from headquarters in Birmingham and the speeches of Senator Reed on the League of Nations have been sent into the district in carbons and have been carried to the rural districts largely.

The Democratic campaign has been conducted with Judge L. L. Herzberg of Gadsden as chief adviser, and various members of the congressional delegation from Alabama and other Democrats have stumped the several counties for Mr. Rainey. Congressman Otis Wingo of Arkansas was the only outside speaker to appear in the district for the Democratic nominee. The result, it is conceded, will be the closest in the history of partisan fights in the Seventh.

BIRMINGHAM.CONTRACTOR HAD TO LEAVE WORK

Birmingham Man Feels Like New Person
—Says, "I Feel That I Owe My Life to Sulfuro-Sol."

Mr. J. C. Harris, a well known contractor and builder, of 216 61st St., Woodlawn, Birmingham, Alabama, suffered miserably for four years with indigestion before using Sulfuro-Sol, the wonder medicine. Here's what he has to say: "I feel as if I owed my life to Sulfuro-Sol. For four years I never knew what it was to be without indigestion and stomach trouble. I tried different doctors, but they couldn't seem to give me even temporary relief. I had to be exceedingly careful about what I ate and could depend upon nothing to agree with me. It was next to impossible for me to eat meat. Every time I tried I would get worse and have to go to bed. The pains in my stomach often got so bad I had to leave my work and go home."

"One day a friend of mine gave me a bottle of Sulfuro-Sol. After I had taken less than half of it I felt like a new person and could eat anything I wanted. I had no trouble with the heartiest of foods. My health began to pick up and the old spells of dizziness and indigestion did not return."

Sulfuro-Sol has been found to be very beneficial in the treatment of Pellagra, Indigestion, Colic, Rheumatism, Dyspepsia and various forms of kidney and bladder trouble. Your druggist has it.
